FOR SALE - MISCELLANEOUS DR. BEALL IN COURT TODAY His Ball in the Grave Robbing Case Fixed by Judge Miller at $1,000. SEVERAL BEAUTIFUL UPRIGHT PIANOS. PROSECUTING ATTORNEY ARMES STRONGLY OBmedium and large styles; finest makes; at surprising barkains for cash or monthly payments. Take advantage of this opportunity. It's for this week only. JECTED TO THE SMALL AMOUNT OF BAIL-$200-ACCEPTED BY CLERK CLAGETT AND WANTED THE GRIMES' PIANO EXCHANGE

TAKEN FROM THE GRAVE? The announcement in yesterday's STAR that Mr. W. A. Cook, as counsel for Dr. William W. Beall, who is charged with grave robbing at the Congressional cemetery at the grave of Mrs. Cheek, said the accused physician would appear in the Police Court today attracted a large crowd of people there this morning. Mr. Cook had Dr. Beall in the clerk's office shortly after 10 o'clock and Clerk Clagett accepted bail in the sum of $200 for the doctor, the latter's father going on his bond. Soon after 11 o'clock Dr. Beall, accompanied by his father and Mr. Cook, entered the Police Court and Mr. Cook called Judge Miller's at-tention to the case. He said that he had fulfilled the promise made yesterday and had sur-rendered Dr. Beall. "I didn't know of such a promise," the judge remarked.

"But I made the promise," said Mr. Cook. bail in the sum of $200, which did not seem to satisfy Mr. Armes, and I would like the court to settle the question." He suggested that as the government was not ready that the case be set for the same day that Dr. Adams' case is to be tried. PROSECUTING ATTORNEY ARMES OBJECTS.

Mr. Armes said that the bond was so singularly out of proportion to the horrible offense charged that he felt called upon to raise an objection to the small amount of bail that was accepted. "What is the offense charged?" asked the "Grave robbing." replied Mr. Armes.

"What is the punishment?"
"It has been punished by a sentence of one year in jail and I ask that bail be fixed at $3,000." Judge Miller said that during the past two years the courts have drifted into the matter of trying a case in order to fix bail. Such a matter as this should be carefully guarded and well considered. The court fixed the highest bail in the case of the shoplifters, as it was evident that they were going about the country evident that they were going about the country robbing people, and that any bail they could give could not hold them.

Mr. Armes again referred to the matter of resurrectionists going from one grave yard to another and getting bodies whenever they could. There are in this city plenty of doctors who would willingly pay the amount of bail given and let the defendant go where he pleases. They would not mind paying that amount and then continuing the business.

MR. COOK ASKS FOR AN IMMEDIATE TRIAL. "We want a trial," said Mr. Cook. "They can get it," replied Mr. Armes. "We want it now; at this moment," said Mr. Cook, "and that will avoid the necessity of discussing the question of bail at this time." "Upon whose motion is the case to be continued?" asked the judge.

"We are ready now," said Mr. Cook.

Replying to Mr. Armes' remarks Mr. Cook said it was due to his client for him to state that Mr. Armes' remarks were nothing but the purest fiction and had no foundation whatever. "I can name at least six surgeons," said Mr. Armes, "who would willingly pay the $200 and let the defendant go."

CLERK CLAGETT EXPLAINS. Clerk Clagett explained that he accepted $200 bail, as he thought that amount was sufficient inasmuch as Dr. Adams was only on his personal bonds.

Mr. Armes said that he knew the prospects f convicting Dr. Adams, and he also knew what the prospects were in this case.

Judge Miller again referred to the reasons for fixing bail and said that in determing the matter he would take into consideration all of Mr. Cook's ability and ingenuity and then set-tle it as though Mr. Armes had an iron grip upon him. Mr. Armes explained that he had no feeling in the matter other than his duty as a public officer. All he wanted was to secure the attendance of the defendant. Again he renewed his motion as to the amount of bail. Mr. Cook referred to Mr. Armes' claims and statements as morbid, diseased and unfounded "You must be afraid of night doctors," remarked Mr. Shillington to Mr. Armes in an un-

"There's no doubt," retorted Mr. Armes, "but that he would rob heaven as he has the earth if he only had the same opportunity."

A severe shock of earthquake occurred at Acircale, Sicily, yesterday, throwing down several houses and burying their occupants beneath the ruins.

Example of the notices of widows' deaths are written, 'Mehitable, widow of the late Jonathan Jones." What is the matter with people that they do not consider that a woman could not be the widow of a man if he were not the late so and so? And yet people go on day after day writing death notices in the way I speak of.

Wm. McClelland, who defeated Alex Miller of Philadelphia in a 10-mile race on Christmas eve, is open to run any man in the world from 3 to 10 miles for $500 a side up to $2,500.

By the death of Mrs. Charlotte Gabriel in New Haven the Yale fibrary receives $15,000, the Young Men's institute $5,000 and the Dwight Place church $5,000.

Albert Netter, the missing witness in the Ives case in New York, has been found at Rio Jan-eiro.

> WELSH HOME RULE. An Elaborate Scheme of Local Self-Government Now Being Agitated.

The leading members of the Welch national council are considering a scheme of home rule for their country, which they hope to induce parliament to pay some attention to. The chief points of the Welsh plan are: A local parliament in Wales, which shall be elected on the basis of a household franchise, one member being allowed to each district of 40,000 population; three-years sessions of parliament; a governor, to be appointed by the crown, to serve five years, with power to veto any measure passed by a majority of the local parliament, such measure, however, if repassed by a twothe management of the sale of the crown lands, The Welsh national council is co-operating in this matter with the Scotch home rulers for their mutual purposes, but the Parnellites are reported as not relishing this scheme of joint reported as not relishing this scheme of joint work. They prefer to enjoy a monopoly of home rule agitation. This, however, is the sentiment of only a small portion of the more self-seeking Irishmen. Mr. Parnell and the other leaders are only too glad to welcome any movement which will bring the English people to a full realization of the desirability of home rule for all the different countries, and will rule for all the different countries, and will thus help to bring about, quietly and com-pletely, the salvation of Ireland.

SOCIAL SCANDAL IN ST. LOUIS. Alfred H. Plant, a Wealthy Society Man, Married While on a Big Spree, Alfred H. Plant, thirty-eight years old, son of Geo. J. Plant, a millionaire miller of St. Louis, is periodically subject to mental aberration, though this fact was never known before, even to his most intimate friends. Two weeks ago "That's another conjecture," retorted Mr. he drew $3,800 from the firm and began drink-cook "and a stretch of professional imagina-ing heavily. Plant's friends heard that he was associating with disreputable people and instituted a search for him. He was found Saturday in the Marphy house and taken in cus-tody by a detective. After an examination by physicians at police headquarters he was pronounced insane and committed to St. Vincent's insane asylum, where he is now under treat-ment. The escapade caused a big sensation in commercial and social circles. Justice of the Peace Jerry Ryan, who performed the cere-mony, says he knew neither of the parties. He was summoned and went to the woman's house, where Plant answered all the necessary questions. He was under the influence of liquor, but not more so than other men whom he had married. The police learned that the cab driver who brought the justice to the house was paid $100.

> THE AMERICAN GIRL As Seen Through French Eyes-Max O'Rell's Lecture.

From the Toledo Blade. That funny little Frenchman known as Max O'Rell spent six months in the United States and now he is lecturing in England, giving his impressions of America. As showing how thoroughly he has sized up our institutions the following extract from his lecture is given:

Max O'Rell then proceeded to describe the American girl. From the age of eighteen the American girl was allowed almost every liberty; she took the rest. [Laughter.] She traveled alone, went to concert or theater alone, she had a reception day and a reception room, and visited and received whom she liked. If at the she would say, "I am at home on Wednesday. Call and see me." He spoke now of the great bulk of the American nation. Next day the young fellow might leave tickets for the theater. Theaters and oysters were very cheap in America; also English books, which were stolen [laughter]—but, worse than that, French books were translated into American. [Laugh-ter.] The young fellow would take the girl to the theater. After the theater he would the theater. After the theater he would take her to a respectable restaurant and order a sort of cold lunch, and if he should order half a bottle of champagne she would probably ask him what he was going to drink. [Laugh-ter.] Then he would take her home—she had her own latch key. [Laughter.] To show that this did not lead to the slightest intimacy it was just possible that these two would meet in a few days and the young girl would come to the young man and say: "I want to in-troduce you to a friend of mine. May I ask you for your name?" [Laughter.] The American woman was tired of the old European formula— Mrs. Julia Slidell Rodgers, wife of Rear Admiral C. R. P. Rodgers, died last evening at her residence, 1721 I street, at a little before 6 o'clock. Her death had been expected for some days but was none the less a shock to her large circle of friends in the semanters. He was not for the women to make the law in these matters. make the law in these matters. He would tell them why the American women could be so free. It was because not only in the day but at nighttime, even in the largest cities, even on Saturday nights, the streets were respectable. [Hear, hear.] It was the respect which women inspired in all men which enabled young women there to have such freedom. He could not say, however, that he ever saw in the American women any gratitude for what they received from the men. [Laughter.] The Acme of Valor. From the Lewiston Journal.

The presentation of an American flag to the grammar schools of Bangor reminds me of a similar occurrence which took place in a Maine village in the summer of '68. A company of volunteers, being about to depart for the state capital, were drawn up on the green to receive a flag that had been made by the patriotic members of the local sewing circle. The village pastor made a sensible presentation speech, and the banner was received by the captain of the company, who handed it to the color-bearer, a witty Irishman. Then facing the worthy pastor and his fair flock the embarrassed captain proceeded to acknowledge the gift as follows:

Reverend sir and ladies : This beautiful flag I see before me—"
"It's behind yez, captain," interrupted the tinent, and perhaps it is smashed. In a work

"Which I see behind me," amended the exhibits documents to "Which I see behind me," amended the blushing officer, "stands for something more than the emblem of a powerful nation. It is beauty's tribute to valor, and as such it is doubly dear to the gallant hearts around me. In thanking you for your gift, ladies, we pledge ourselves to faithfully defend it. At the close of the campaign those of us who are spared will bring this flag back to you, unless it is blown to atoms by shot from the enemy, in which event we'll—we'll—"

"We'll bring thim back the pole," shouted the enthusiastic trishman, to the delight of the crowd and the relief of the superior officer.

THE TROUBLE AT JESSUP. Negroes Taken Out of Their Houses and Whipped. The negroes in the swamp at Jessup, Ga., are still surrounded and are keeping quiet. A posse of twenty men has left on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad mail his gang who, it is rumored, have gone there keeps up, but it is principally by boys.

The jail was broken into early yesterday morning and two negro prisoners were riddled with bullets. Another negro was found at home shot through the heart and one with a flesh wound in the shoulder. It was reported that others had been killed, but officers have not found them. A search for bodies will be kept up all day. The negroes are quitting their homes and moving to other towns on the line of the railroad. A large number of negroes were taken from their homes yesterday morn-ing and whipped, many of them being de-graded women. A crowd of white men went to several houses after breakfast and compelled the negroes to leave. They punished some of them. The Hussars have started for Savannah, but the infantry company of Brunswick will remuin till tonight. The swamp where Brewer's gang are hiding will be searched to day, and if the negroes are found lynching will probably follow. The coroner is now holding an inquest on the dead bodies.

OUTSIDE THE GAME.

Queer Comments by People Ignorant of Croquet and Tennis.

From the Youth's Companion. Those who are entirely outside a game, by reason of their ignorance of its laws, are seldom sympathetic as critics. In the days when croquet was the favorite distraction of high and low an old farmer was asked if he knew how it was played.

"Law, Suz, yes," he responded. "A lot of em knock a set of wooden balls round a spell at' then they laugh as if they'd done somethin' smart."

A young lady taken to watch a base ball game gave her impressions of it on reaching "Oh, it was so exciting! One man tosses the ball, you know, and then they try to bat it-or at least somebody does-and then somebody "How clever you are, Mande!" said a some-what satirical sister. "Now I don't understand base ball and couldn't possibly describe it so nicely! "Oh, well," returned Maude, innocently, "I can usually see into a game if I give my mind to it," and then she wondered at the general shout of applause.

"They've got a new game down our way," said a farmer whose "folks" kept summer boarders. "They call it 'lawn tender.'"

"Good?" inquired a crony at the store.

"Wal, I dunno. They play it with a big seine an' a lot o' balls and snow shoes." Now and then, however, an unprofessional eye will see at once into the very heart of a game. It was a woman who made the best general criticism of base ball to be found in print or out of it.

"I should say," she remarked slyly after watching a close contest for an hour, "that the cream of this game is in the pitcher." A FEW SUPERSTITIONS.

Some of the "Charms" Formerly Used to Prevent Sickness. From the Hospital.

To allay hemorrhage, a toad, well dried in the sun and put into a bag, was hung round a marriage so that she could nurse him. The and reptiles, or the sting of numerous insects, likewise effecting their cure. Toothache could be charmed away by a few leaves of the "shepherd's purse," placed in the sole of the shoe on the reverse side of the body to that in which the tooth was aching. An excellent recipe for weak or sore eyes was the expressed juice of the calyx of the red honeysuckle; provided always that the flowers were gathered kneeling, repeating nine paternosters in honor of the trinity, nine more "to greet our ladye" and a creed. Rest and sleep were acquired after application. Another prescription for the eyes much in favor with the Angio-Saxons was a paste made of the strawberry plant and pepper, diluted with sweet wine. Children were passed through the split stem of a tree for the cure of the rickets, but the fracture must be afterward bound up sufficiently tight to insure cohesion. For ague a very well-salted herring, split open, was applied as hot as possible to the soles of the feet. It might also be mitigated by the habitual wearing round the neck of an emerald-a gem equally potent in epilepsy. Precious stones were accredited with marvelous powers over the moral qualities and affections, as well as physical disease -- hence the origin of their being set in rings and worn. The teeth of old age were fixed firmly in the gums by an infu-sion of powdered jet, while water in which the beryl had been steeped afforded a valuable wash for strengthening the eyes, besides insuring the mutual love of a wedded couple.

A Christmas Summer Excursion. The annual Christmas steamboat excursion on the Mississippi at Winona, Minn., was a great success. The steamer Robert Harris and parges made two trips to East Moor, loaded with all they could carry. The weather was regular excursion weather. Dancing was en-joyed on the barges and ice cream, lemonade and genuine Minnesota strawberries served as refreshments. Just think of it! Many persons were in straw hats and dusters and all were supplied with fans. The mercury registered 60 degrees above zero. A lawn party, with croquet, was held in the evening.

The Philadelphia Printers Insist. A large number of printers attended the pecial meeting of Typographical union, No. 2, in Philadelphia yesterday, to take action on the refusal of the proprietors of the Inquirer, North American, Record, Press and Times to grant the advance in the price of typesetting recently demanded. President Jacob Glasser presided, and International Union President Plank and District Organizer Jones of the International union were present. After several addresses had been made urging that the demand of the union be insisted upon, a vote was taken on the union be insisted upon, a vote was taken on the question of referring the whole matter to the executive council of the International union for action. The result was overwhelmingly in favor of pushing the demand in this way. By this action the local union secures the co-operation as well as moral support of the International union in the event of a strike. Under this action District Organizer Jones became the representative of the men on consultations with the proprietors, and he started out to visit with the proprietors, and he started out to visit them. His report, it is said, will be made to the executive council, which represents the International union, when the latter is not in session, and which is now authorized to direct extreme measures on the part of the printers concerned, if it seem fit to do so.

Scotch Dinners Costing a Cent. From the Liverpool Courier.

They manage dinners for poor children trifle more economically in Edinburg than elsewhere. In Edinburg it is found possible to elsewhere. In Edinburg it is found possible to supply for a half penny a wholesome meal of vegetable broth and bread. Scotch children thrive on the various savory thick soups of many ingredients for which the cuisine of the country is celebrated, and unfortunately soup of any kind, clear or thick, is rarely prepared in the home of the English poor. Solid meat, bread and potatoes form the staple of diet. In too many cases in England bones are only regarded as useful to the rag and bone man; in Scotland such waste is rare. otland such waste is rare.
